Forgive and Forget.
Forgive and forget—it is better
To ring all ill feeling aside
Than allow the deep enkerling letter
Of revenge in your breast to abide;
For your step o'er life's path will be
Lighter
When the load from your bosom is cast,
And the glorious sky will be brighter
When the cloud of displeasure has Passed.

Though your spirit swell high with emotion
To give back injuries again,
Sink thought in oblivion's ocean,
For remembrance increases the pain.
Oh, why should we linger in sorrow
When its shadow is passing away,
Or seek to encounter to-morrow
The blast that o'erwhelms us to-day?

Our life's stream is a varying river,
And though it may placidly glide,
When the sunbeams of joy o'er it quiver
It must foam when the storm meets its tide.
Then stir not its current to madness,
For its wrath thou wilt ever regret;
Though the morning beams break on thy sadness,
Ere the sunset forgive and forget.

Weds in England.
Of interest to Richmond people is an announcement in the South Shore Gazette-News:

An exceedingly pretty wedding, which attracted a great amount of attention at South Shore, where the bride has a large circle of friends, was solemnized at the South Shore Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, in the presence of a big congregation. The bride was Miss Jesse Crank, the youngest daughter of Mr. Joseph Crank, of Baltimore road, South Shore; and she was married to Mr. Harvey Coleman Brown, the eldest son of Mr. D. A. Brown, of Richmond, Va., U. S. A. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Woodall, the newly appointed vicar of Pensilfote, Blackburn, and formerly the assistant curate at South Shore, assisted by the Rev. F. H. Powell, the vicar of South Shore. The entrance to the church had been specially prepared for the occasion, soft red carpeting having been laid from the church gates to the chancel steps. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a dress of white Lousine silk, trimmed with Spanish lace and white heather. Her bridal veil was of tulle; and she wore a beautiful wreath of flowering myrtle. Her shower bouquet was composed of white sweet peas, roses, and white heather. The bridesmaids, Miss Nora Carross, a niece of the bride, and Miss Mollie Windsor, of South Shore, were dressed in beautiful white spotted liberty silk, with yokes of Valenciennes lace, silk medallions, and sashes of pale pink crepe de chine. Their hair was pinned up in the Valenciennes lace with wreaths of pink roses over the brim; and their bouquets were of pale pink roses, with showers of smilax and roses.

The duties of best man were efficiently performed by Mr. Ralph Paret, of London. A large number of guests were present, all handsomely attired; and the scene in the church was extremely picturesque. Mr. C. W. Fisher, the organist, added to the beauty of the service by playing a number of bridal pieces with his customary skill.

After the service Mr. and Mrs. Crank held a reception at the Metropole Hotel, where Mr. H. P. Stephenson, the host, entered in excellent style. The newly-married pair left later for Scarborough, where the honeymoon is being spent. The bride's traveling dress was a long traveling coat of white poplin, with a skirt to match and a blouse of white crepe de chine. Her hat was of white felt, adorned with a shaded green bird.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were the recipients of a large number of handsome and costly presents, as well as of many congratulatory letters and telegrams. The guests at the wedding included Mr. T. H. Elliot, Richmond, Va., (uncle of the bridegroom).

They will sail from Liverpool for America on Saturday, the 10th, on the steamer "Campania," of the Cunard Line, and will make their home here.

The Newport News Daily Press reports that the English flying squadron, in command of Prince Louis of Battenberg, will reach Hampton Roads in November. Navy circles are agog over the announcement and great preparations will be made for his reception.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Walker have recently bought from Mr. Leroy Pettus, of Memphis, an extensive tract of land in Amelia. It is already well stocked with game and their purpose is to make of it a game preserve and grazing farm. They will build a hunter's lodge at once.

Scott—Dunn.
The following announcement of interest to Richmonders: "Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Dunn, of New York and Washington, to the marriage of their daughter, Hil-dreth, to Mr. George Cole Scott, of Richmond. The wedding will take place September 27th, at Hot Springs, Va., the country home of the family. Miss Dunn, with her sister, has just returned from Europe, where they aroused much interest, not only by their beauty, but by their graceful rendering of the dances learned during a prolonged sojourn in Spain.

"In Brussels, under the auspices of their cousin, the American minister, they were the recipients of marked attention, and last winter, when they visited their grandmother, the widow of Judge Advocate General Dunn, many brilliant entertainments were given in their honor."

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.
Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch have already been printed in this series.

I WILL make you brooches and toys for your delight
Of bird-song at morning and star-shine at night.
I will make a palace fit for you and me,
Of green days in forests and blue days at sea.
I will make my kitchen, and you shall keep your room,
Where white flows the river and bright blows the broom,
And you shall wash your linen and keep your body white,
In rainfall at morning and dewfall at night.
And this shall be for music when no one else is near,
The fine song for singing, the rare song to hear!
That only I remember, that only you admire,
Of the broad road that stretches and the roadside fire.

A CHINESE BRIDE ARRIVES
She is the Only Chinese Girl in Norfolk—A Young Woman Elopes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., September 13.—The United States torpedo boat Lawrence is badly damaged. When examined in the dry-dock at the Navy Yard to-day, she showed that extensive repairs were necessary. She belongs to the flotilla division of the coast defense squadron of the North Atlantic fleet. In coming from Annapolis here, her propeller struck a submerged log in Chesapeake Bay and bent the shaft. This will be straightened and the propeller will be replaced.

DECLINES A CALL.

The bride is sequestered according to Chinese custom so that intimate acquaintance with Goon, who runs a laundry in Cumberland Street, near Butte, or a great deal of tact is required to get a glimpse at the slant-eyed beauty. She is the only Chinese girl here, and Goon is proud of his distinction.

BENEFITS OF THE FAIR.
Mr. C. M. Reeves, who was secretary of the committee on legislation for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, left for St. Louis last night. He had spent a week in Norfolk, becoming acquainted with the managers of the Jamestown Exposition company and investigating the situation here, with a view possibly of subsequent connection with the tercentennial.

Mr. Reeves was unwilling to prophesy what benefits might accrue to Norfolk and this section as the result of our exposition, but he gave a very rosy picture of what had happened on an aftermath to the St. Louis Exposition.

The game of base-ball, which was between the teams of the Clinch Valley and Pocahontas coal fields, attracted widespread interest to-day, although the score stood 8 to 1 in favor of the Pocahontas boys. Great interest was manifested. The importance was manifested by the fact that a number of the Pocahontas boys of Dr. Kurn, a pitcher of some note from Cincinnati, was heralded around as sure defeat for the opposing team, but he did not add much strength to the team, as his balls were batted all over the field.

Some very fine stock was exhibited at the fair this morning. The entries and premiums were as follows:
Best three-year-old trotting or pacing horse—"Little Jim," Dr. R. B. Gillespie.
Best bull calf and best bull one-year-old—Both premiums captured by Henry S. Bowen.
